MESSAGE FROM GEORGE ROGERS TO THE MEMBERS OF ICF BULGARIA:

Dear Colleagues,

Thank you for having me as a guest of your ICF Bulgaria Masterclass. It is a privilege to spend today discussing ICF's credentialing and program accreditation programs with you.

With the passion of members like you, ICF has grown from a handful of passionate coaches in North America into a strong and globally focused membership with more than 18,000 members in over 100 countries. ICF members are professionals who practice many niches of coaching, including executive, leadership and life coaches. The ICF is now made up of over 100 chapters in 50 countries around the world.

Recently the ICF Board of Directors approved our new strategic plan to guide the association forward over the next five years. In the strategic plan we established our core purpose, to lead the global advancement of the coaching profession. A key element of this goal is the ICF Credentialing and Program Accreditation programs which we will discuss today.

The ICF offers the only globally recognized, independent credentialing program which has existed for more than a decade and to date includes over 8,000 credential holders. ICF Credentials are highly recognized coaching qualifications with credibility around the world. If you are serious about building or maintaining your coaching business and care for being part of a well-respected, self-regulating profession, you will be interested in gaining an ICF Credential.

I hope that you find today's presentation helpful to you as you continue your journey as a professional coach. Please feel free to contact me or any of my colleagues here in the global office of ICF should you have questions or need assistance.

With best regards,

*George Rogers
Assistant Executive Director at International Coach Federation*
